Course Overview

The ICT80115 Graduate Certificate in Information Technology and Strategic Management qualification provides skills and knowledge for individuals to lead the analysis, implementation and management of emerging and converging information and communication technologies as they are integrated into the business process to support organisational strategic goals.

Students will be introduced to the process of development and integration of a business application and undertake to research, develop a business case for a sustainable and socially responsive application in an area of industry of their choice.

Students will undertake this a major project that is embedded across the course for the development, project management and presentation of the design, and a business case for their business application. The major project is undertaken as four individual assessment tasks.
